PRESS RELEASE

THE OASIS by MARK WILKINSON

The OASIS was designed by Mark Wilkinson and created for Perrin & Rowe, blending the very best of British artistry and craftsmanship to create functional beauty.

Mark Wilkinson is renowned for his exquisitely designed and beautifully handcrafted kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms and furniture. His innovative thinking and passion for design and detail have brought him worldwide recognition as one of the finest designers of our time.

Bob Perrin, Greg Rowe and Mark Wilkinson share a passion for design which brought them together for a very special project. It gave Mark the opportunity to apply his talent to the design of a unique kitchen tap as an addition to the Perrin & Rowe tapware collection.

The result is a modern classic called the Oasis by Mark Wilkinson.

Each Oasis by Mark Wilkinson tap is made in the Perrin & Rowe factory in England. It is crafted from solid brass; hand polished and then electroplated in Chrome or Pewter finish, with a coating well in excess of the standards requirement. It is then assembled and tested by hand to ensure every tap meets the strict quality control criteria for premium tapware.

Components include German made quarter-turn ceramic disc valves, to give a smooth precise feel when turning the tap on and off and an aerator in the tap's spout for a soft, even flow of water.
