Hello,

I'm John, the founder of Joseph Giles.

Twenty years ago, I started a hardware business named after my two sons. I had one simple desire: to say 'yes we can' to the ideas and dreams of designers and clients like you.

It hasn't always been easy – some of the designs we work on are formidably tricky, but the end result is always worth the effort.

Because we know you care about the detail and finish, we hold ourselves to incredibly high standards, spending hours redesigning components until we achieve perfection.

I hope you get the chance to try our creations for yourself one day – I have a feeling you'd appreciate them.

Yours ever,

ABOUT US

Here at Joseph Giles, we create the finest interior hardware and accessories. Down to the smallest screw, our endeavour remains the same: to form beauty in every detail. This purpose affords designers the freedom to use architectural hardware to make a statement, or to support a wider design scheme in an understated way.

Designed and made in Britain, our range of hardware is the result of 25 years' worth of constant improvement – never settling for mediocrity and paying attention to detail that most wouldn't notice. It's a discipline we've learnt from our clients and has shaped who we are and what we do today.

WHERE YOU'LL FIND US

Super Prime Residential Developments

The hardwearing nature of solid brass, with the craftsmanship that only the finest materials and hand-finishing can bring, renders our collection of interior hardware the first choice for interior designers working on super prime residential developments.

We've been honoured to work with the world's top interior designers and developers, such as Yabu Pushelberg, 1508 London and Qatari Diar on developments around the world. Our most recent projects include 1 Grosvenor Square and Chelsea Barracks.

Private Residential Properties

From townhouses and rambling country estates to Mediterranean villas, our collection of decorative and functional hardware has enabled hundreds of interior designers to match the hardware to the space, whether it's a contemporary apartment, period property or a super-luxe modern design.

Hospitality

From the Art Deco glamour of the Crown London Aspinalls space in Mayfair, to the classic feel of the Beaverbrook country club set in the heart of Surrey, our interior hardware has been used in a variety of premium hospitality locations.

Our work typically takes us to luxury hotels, restaurants, and exclusive clubs, such as the Peninsula Hotel in London and the Red Sea Development in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Yachts

Our contribution to yacht interiors often involves the design and manufacture of bespoke hardware, working with naval architecture and interior design experts like Winch Design.

Aircraft

Much like marine hardware, hardware for private aircraft requires careful consideration to remove sharp edges. Our team will assist with matching hardware throughout your home, yacht and aircraft projects for perfect continuity.

OUR PROCESS

Discovery

Once your vision is shared and we understand the creative direction for the interior hardware of your project, we can support you with product and finish samples, and share technical advice on the compatibility between the hardware and joinery details.

If creating a bespoke hardware piece is part of your vision, our design team would work on creating 3D models and prototypes to help you visualize the final piece, as well as ensuring operation is flawless.

The hardware schedule

Once the design of your collection is signed off by all parties, we'll work with the contractor, providing a hardware schedule using the architect's floor plans.

In addition to the written hardware schedule, we also provide as standard a full pictorial hardware schedule outlining each product, finish, size and the location of where it will be installed on the project, which serves as a visual aid for the team on site.

Creating your hardware

Your hardware collection is then crafted by selected British artisans, using only the finest grade solid brass. Each piece is then individually hand-finished in our workshop, before being processed by our eagle-eyed quality control team to ensure the finished products match the original brief exactly.

Delivery

Our project management team will communicate with your relevant project team to schedule deliveries. These will be packed into door sets for site convenience, labelled with the door numbers from the architect's floor plan.

Dedicated contact and aftercare

Throughout the process, you will have a dedicated contact to ensure your project runs smoothly and meets deadlines. Consider us an extension of your team, ready to offer expertise and assistance whenever needed, even after project completion.
